NEGOTIATIONS REACH A CRISIS

Cross-Table Efforts of Mediators to Arrive at Understanding

WANT JOINT SESSION.

Mexicans Yield on Issue it Was Thought Would Bring Conference to animmediate Close.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, June 12.—Forced suddenly from a state of inaction and doubt to the point where the American and Mexican delegates will henceforth meet face to face before the A. B. C. mediators, the efforts to find a solution for the pacification of Mexico through mediation reached a critical stage today.

On the conferences which are to follow will rest success or failure in the negotiations looking toward an agreement between the Americans and the delegates of General Huerta.

A full conference is scheduled for this afternoon when Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann will again meet with the three Mexican delegates before the mediators to continue the point-by-point discussion started late yesterday.

The mediators asked for a seperate conference with the Americans during the morning, and provided communicatio enxpected from Washinton were received, it was to be held.

At American headquarters there was optimism and the belief that substantial progress had been made in the conference so hastily assembled late yesterday.

An important point in the plans for the pacification of Mexico was gained by the United States last night through the conciliatory spirit displayed by the Mexican delegation. What had been a stumbling block for several days was passed in safety.

In a full conference of the mediators and the delegates of both countries it was agreed that the transfer of authority from the present administration to the new provisional government should be accomplished in some other way than by General Huerta's appointment of a Minister of Foreign Affairs who would succeed to the provisional presidency.

REPEAL BILL PASSED.

Senate Passes Measure Last Night by a Vote of 50 to 35.

By a vote of 50 to 35, the Senate late last night passed the bill repealing the free tolls chuase in the Panama Canal act. The bill carries the Simmons-Norris amendment, specifically declaring that the United States waives no rights under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain to exempt our coastwise shipping. Twelve Republicans voted for the repeal bill. Eleven Democrats were alligned against it.

The final vote came at the end of a long day wrangling, argument and invective, interspersed with votes on various amendments.

Sure of their cause and certain as to the result, friends of repeal for the most part said little. Senator Williams, however, injected a good deal of heat into the debate at times, and Senators Vardaman and West were prevented from fisticuffs largely through the bone and muscle of Senator Ashurst and the rapid approach of the sergeant-at-arms.

Shooting what he supposed was a blank cartridge in a 22-caliber rifle, his gun pointed at the three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E Nolach, 12 year old Wayne Cooper late Wednesday fatally wounded the baby, who died at a local hospital at Tampa, Fla.

Another attack was made yesterday on the Locust Grove mine of the West Virginia and Pittsburgh Coal Company, where a strike has been in progress snce last September. Shots were fired from the hilltops and a dynamite boom was exploded at the same mine opening as the men were going to work. Deputy sheriffs scoured the hills in search of the attacking party but without result.

Governor William Sulzer has announced his candidacy for the governorship of New York He declares that the Sulzer nominators would put a full ticket in the field, that their emblem would be a liberty bell, and that only Tammany tactics could defeat him at the Democratis primaries He added that if defeated in the primaries he would run by petition and make a hot campaign against Tammany control of the State. "The bosses must be beaten. The grafter must go; the stealing must be stopped" said Sulzer.

Full military honors marked the burial at Arlington Cemetery yesterday of Thomas Findley, a Confederate soldier. This is the first case on record of such honors as are bestowed on Union dead being given an ex-soldier of the Confederacy. Over the grave the customary three volleys were fired by a firing squad from the fort and taps sounded. The army chaplain at Fort Myer officiated at the services. Thomas Findley was a private in the ranks during the entire civil war. A member of the Seventh Virginia cavalry, Company H, he fought at Gettysburg, at the first battle of Bull Run, and at Malvern Hill, serving under Pickett and Longstreet.

Another war between Greece and Turkey is foreshadowed by the London Times, which says the unrest in the Balkans has become acute. Several of the States, it says, have "recently been employed in clearing their newly acquired territories of "undesirable elements," and the Bulgarians have been the principal offenders. The unrest is attributed by the newspapers to the drastic policy of the Young Turks in expelling all Greeks, the main object being the Thrace. It believes this policy is a prelude to a declaration of war upon Greeks from Asia Minor and Turkish conquest by Turkey of Saloniki and the reoccupancy of Macedonia.

Authorities at Hammond, Ind., are planning to use fire hose on Pullman passengers of both sexes who lie disrobed in their berths without pulling shades these hot nights. A score of east and south bound trans reach Hammond from Chicago about the time the passengers have retired. The depots are in the heart of the shopping district, and the sleepers blockade streets filled with crowds from theaters and shops going home. Men, accompanied by wives, daughters, and sweethearts, have been compelled to witness startling disclosures. A lady on an Erie train, dressed as Eve, with her berth lighted and shades undrawn, slept unconscious of a riotous crowd on the Hohman street crossing.

EIGHT MURDERS ARE ALLEGED

Startling List of Crimes Revealed at Trial in Philadelphia.

HUNCHCHAKIST GANG.

Postal Inspectors Round up Armenian Society that Preyed on Opulent Countrymen.

Philadelphia, June 12.—Eight murders were charged against Aramanag Kazazian by the Government's witnesses yesterday, when he was placed on trial in the United States District Court for conspiracy and sending threatening letters to Miran Karagheusian, a millionaire importer, of New York. M. Dikron Siroganian testified under oath that Garabad Narinian, another defendant, had told him in Kazazian's presence that Kazazian killed seven men in Turkey and a woman in France who had refused to pay tribute to him.

Siroganian was the interpreter in the case and testified that he learned of the threatening letters when he was questioning the accused man in Moyamensing prison. He declared that Narinian admitted having written the letters, but did so because he feared Kazazian. It later developed that when Narinian told of the murders Kazazian cursed and raved at him and threatened vengeance. Postal Inspector Frank W. Smith corroborated the testimony of Siroganian and declared that Nirrinian had told him of the murders committed by the accused man abroad.

When the arrests were made the three men declared they were members of the Hunchakist Society, and it was then rumored that it was this organization which was responsible for the threatening letters which for years have been received by wealthy Armenians in this country. It developed, however, that the Hunchakist Society is a political organization and includes among its members many prominent Armenians.

PRESS ASSOCIATION.

About 150 Delegates Will Attend Meeting in Alexandria June 23-26.

Secretary Wedderburn, of the local press committee, received a letter this morning from Secretary Hart, of the Virginia Press Association, in which was enclosed a list of delegates who had notified him of their intention to be in attendance at the annual state meeting of the association to be held in Alexandria June 23-26. The combined list of names received by the state and local committee now brings the total number of delegates to more than 150. The prospects of a successful annual meeting are heretofore the brightest.

The local committee, appointed by Mayor Fisher to assist in the entertainment arrangements for the visitors, was to have met last night, but, due to an oversight in opening and lighting the rooms, the meeting was postponed. At this meeting it is very important that every member of the committee be present.

FORTY-FIFTH COMMENCEMENT

OPERA HOUSE FULL.

Interesting Program of Exercises Well Rendered—Two Hundred and Fifty Pupils on the Rolls.

Yesterday Lannon's Opera House was well filled with the friends of St. Mary's and its two hundred and fifty pupils when promptly at three o'clock the curtain went up for the annual commencement program. Conspicuous among the representative audience were the members of St. Mary's Alumnae, each wearing the gold medal of graduation; they had come to show their love and loyalty to Alma Mater, to live over again, at least in happy memories, their own graduation day and to offer good wishes to the class just going out from St. Mary's who on October 15th will be enrolled among their members, ever growing larger and more interested in St. Mary's and its progress.

The program opened with a "waltz song" by the juniors, with Elizabeth Hart at the piano. It was a fitting introduction to a splendid commencement presenting sixty-five of St. Mary's smaller children, who, as ever, won their way easily to the hearts of all present by their sprightly rendition of a well trained chorus.

"Memories of Strauss Waltz" by the young violinists, Ruth Morgan, Winifred Bayne, Alice Whitton, Ruth LeHugh, and Elmer Davis, with Jennie Snyder as accompanist, displayed talent and careful teaching and it was well received. The two graduates in the academic course, Sue Adeline Florance, of Fairfax county, Va., and Jeanette Cartwright Prosise, of Lloyd, Va., then took seats on the stage. They carried lovely bouquets of Killarney roses the class flower, while the color scheme, red and gold, was carried out by the red buds and the yellow ribbon entwining them. Miss Prosise was salutatorian and her essay, "Perseverando" a motto taken from the reverse side of the seal of Virginia, showed thought and study. At its conclusion she offered hearty greetings to the Reverend clergy, St. Mary's Alumnae and other friends.

"March and Dumb Bell Drill" was then rendered by the physical culture class in perfect time and with a precision that spoke well for the work accomplished by the class during the year.

"Miserere from Il Trovatore" by Verdi" with Janet Risheill, Mary Nugent, and Mildred Hellmuth carrying the solo parts and Alice Cherot, Mary Ewald, Ruth Priest, Helen Waddy, Eleanor Nugent and Mary Entwisle in the chorus work was a charming vocal selection that gave scope for the display of efficient voice training and earnest work on the part of the talented voculists. It was decidedly one of the best numbers as the applauses it deservedly received testified.

"Fantasie Brillante" from Alberti with Ethel Dix and Virgnia Downey at the piano followed, and their work easily sustained St. Mary's reputation as a school where the divine art of music receives its full need of attention, it was all that the most critical musician could desire, showing a mastery of technique and execution that deserved the applause accorded to the able rendition.

In the senior chorus, "Nightingale and Rose" one hundred of St. Mary's advanced students presented a beautiful picture, as clad in the regulation white and glad with the joy of youth, they sang with all the abandon of happy girlhood, while their many friends who heard them could only wish that ever their lives might be filled with roses and with the gladness of happy school life.

The ably rendered "Rhapsodie Hongroise" from Liszt wth Georgia Wilson, Kathryn Brill, Mildred and Pauline Hellmuth, at the pianos easily proved them St. Mary's advanced students in music, as they displayed an ability in interpretation and rendition that ever marks the true musician, who to talent joins that without which it were useless—constant and earnest work in practice.

This half of the program ends. "Pandora and the Mysterious Box", an adaptation from Hawthorne's Wonder Book, staged by Miss Gertrude Spetzler of Baltimore, teacher of elocution at the Academy, was presented by the students of expression. It opened with a Greek procession through the audience in which all the participants took part; Ruth Devlin, Etta Cissel, Elizabeth Hart, Regina Fannon, Ethel Adams, Anna Cook, Eula Puckett, Gladys White, Virginia Wilkins, Geraldine Backenheimer, Evelyn Howard, Eleanor McGahey, Mabel Martin, Helen Waddy, Agnes Donaldson, Virginia Fannon, Geraldine Davis, Eleanor Nugent, Genevieve Adams, Helen Cook and Hazel Crown were attired as Greek maidens and the other members of the cast wore their respective costumes. As they slowly and gracefully advanced their voices sweetly rose in a song to hope, which sounded the keynote of the play. To the readers of Hawthonrne, the story of Pandora is a familiar one, and the many inspiring lessons the author inculcates were yesterday ably brought out by the young students who participated.

Julia Duncan as as Epimetheus; Mary Quinn as Alethea; Florence Evans as Pandora; Margaret Hill, Mercury; Loretto Griffith, Old Shepherd; Emma Hubbard, Greed; Virginia Downey, Hate Mable Martin, Deceit; Agnes Donaldson, Poverty; Thelma Longfellow, Hope and Genevieve Adams and Geraldine Davis as attendants to Mercury, formed the cast. Attired in beautiful and appropriate costume, each took her respective role in a manner that left no room for criticism but rather won from all present highest encomiums. A summary of the play is as follows: Epimetheus, a Greek boy under the guardianship of Alethea, longs for a play fellow, Pandora, a beautiful maiden, is brought to him, and in the lovely Grecian forests they are at hide and seek when Mercury enters and commands his attendants to deposit a mysterious box. This he gives to the keeping and honor of Epimetheus, warning him never to open it. Pandora is soon discovered in her hiding place and upon her return is surprised to find the lovely box. At once she wishes to open it, which Epimetheus forbids. They sit together in the green sward and Pandora questions Epimetheus as to what trouble is. Both have heard the ward, but know not its meaning and like not its sound. The Old Shepherd summons Epimetheus away and Pandora, left alone, cannot restrain her curiosity; so she unties the golden cords that bind the box and lifts the lid. Instantly Hate, Deceit, Proverty and Greed hitherto unknown upon the earth, rush out and begin to torment her. She realizes too late what an evil she has done and calls for help. Epimetheus rushes on the scene only to be yet more tormented by Hate who forces him to steal food, wine and money. While Pandora is struggling with Hate, Greed enters; Epithemeus brings the money, Greed and Hate quarrel over it, and are borne from the stage. A voice within the mysterious box again begs Pandora to open; untaught by her mistake she obeys; this time Hope, beautifully attired comes from the box to make amends for all the evils brought by Pandora's dreadful curiosity; and the play ends happily by a strikingly beautiful tableau in which all the participants pay tribute to Hope, man's only refuge after sin. During the progress of the play, the Greek maidens gave a charming Greek dance that was warmly applauded. The play was accompanied throughout by Georgia Wilson at the piano and Ruth Morgan and Winifred Bayne with violin.

Sue Florance then read the Valedictory, "Life's Common Things". It was written in blank verse and at its close she offered a tribute of love and gratitude to Alma Mater, to whom she pledged fidelity.

Graduating Gold Medal and Diploma for having completed the academic course conferred upon Miss Sue Adeline Florence, Miss Jeanette Cartwright Prosise.

FINAL REPORT NEXT TUESDAY

Campaign for Hospital Funds will be Extended Over Monday.

ONLY TWO MORE DAYS

Preparations for Production of Western Drama "Tatters," at Opera House Tonight.

As stated yesterday, owing to the meeting, in regard to the building of the avenue beween Alexandria and Washington, which is to be held Monday in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce in Washington which necessitates the attendance of a large number of the Executive Committee and of the Board of Trustees the final report of the Executive Committee to the Board of Trustees will not be mdea until Tuesday night next, thus extending the campaign over next Monday.

We have only two more days left in which to contribute to this fund. The Committee appeals to all their friends who have not sent in a contribution to send it now, so that they may be added to the list of original contributors and be reported on Tuesday to the Trustees. Tonight the Washington Dramatic Club will present the Western Drama, "Tatters" at the Opera House and it is believed that every who attends will have a most enjoyable time and at the same time assist in adding to the hospital fund. The cast were in Alexandria last night and had a stage rehearsel at the Opera House and reported that the individual members had sold over seventy-five tickets in Washington city, and it is expected that nearly 150 persons will come from Washington tonight. The sale of reserved seats at Warfield's indicate that the Opera House will be well filled, if not overflowing, and it is as it should be, not only to assist the hospital but to give recognition to the ladies and gentlemen who have so kindly volunteered their talent for the hospital's benefit.

Our friends who attend "Tatters" tonight at the Opera House should recollect that they are not going to see a professional company but an organization of amatuers, some of whom have never acted before, and all of whom have gathered for the simple purpose of trying to assist the hospital fund, and they desire it to be stated that they do not make any pretensions, they are simply doing the best they can to help a worthy cause.

Bodies Found.

Cut and bruised and bearing evidences of foul play, the bodies of a Miss Reynolds, aged 18, and Bertie, Zulah, and Vina Sanders, sisters, aged 9, 11, and 14, respectively, were found in Rock Creek near Sapula, Okla., yesterday. When Henry Sanders, father of the three children, left home Tuesday, Miss Reynolds, employed as a housekeeper, took the children for a stroll. Sanders did not return home Tuesday night. The discovery of the body of one of the girls at a ford in the creek prompted investigation, which revealed the other three floating in the water nearby. The clothes of all were on the bank.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

The wedding of Miss Nathalie May Boush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Boush, of this city, and Mr. G. Gordon Asher, also of Alexandria, in Christ Church last night was one of the prettiest witnessed hereabouts for a long time.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of the church. The edifice was beautifully decorated with spring blossoms. After the wedding a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, 222 south Washington street, at which about five hundred guests gathered, including many from Washington, Baltimore and Richmond.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a Parisian costume of white satin trimmed with rose point Venetian lace. She was attended by Miss Genevieve Champ Clark, daughter of speaker of the House of Representatives, as maid of honor, and by two bridesmaids, Miss Daisy Morgan, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Katherine Lance, of Pennsylvania. Tiny Edith Asher, sister of the bridegroom, acted as flower girl.

Mr. Lawrence Clark, of Baltimore, was best man for Mr. Asher, and the ushers were Mr. C. Keith Carlin, son of Representative C. C. Carlin, Mr. Garnett Pitts, Mr. Bryan Pitts, of this city, and Mr. James W. Fowle, of Washington.

Miss Genevieve Clark was attired in pink chiffon and pink Dolly Varden hat, while the bridesmaids wore white shadow lace gowns with pink girdles, and carried flower wands.

Miss Boush is a member of a distinguished Virginia family, while Mr. Asher is descended from Light Horse Harry Lee and Governor Spottswood of colonial fame. Out of compliment to the famous Knights of the Golden Horseshoe legend in Governor Spottswood's story, Mr. Asher gave golden horseshoes to the best man and ushers, while Miss Boush gave golden wishbones to her attendants.

A most enjoyable affair for small tots was the prettily arranged party given by Mrs. George French yesterday afternoon at her attractive summer home in Arturus, to her little daughter Margaret. Mrs. French had arranged for a special car to convey the guests both to and from her home, and at two-thirty some sixty little folks accompanied by a half dozen grown-ups, boarded the car at the Royal street station. Mr. French met the car and escorted the children to the residence where Miss Margaret and her mother greeted them from beneath a wide spreading pink rambler. The color scheme throughout the festivities was pink, and as each little guest threw off their bonnets or caps, they were asked to draw a number, which number they went in search of among the lower branches of the trees where numbered parcels, holding a wonderful surprise within their pink tissue coverings, winked at the eager hunters. Then a lemonade well which really had no bottom, for drink as one may the same supply was ever in hand. Swings were suspended from every available bough. After the games and romps on the grounds and the beach, the children were summoned by the ringing of a big bell to the daintily arranged tables of refreshments. Clusters of pink roses bedecked the goodly laden tables, and the guests were plied with as much ice cream and cake as a youngster could manage.

Mrs. M. M. Lewis will arrive today to be the guest of Dr. Snowden and family.

News of his death was received early last night by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Noble Lindsey, of Braddock Heights, Alexandria county. The telegram announcing his suicide was sent from Fletcher, N. C., and no details were given.

Mrs. Lindsey, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Mamie Lindsey, left last night for North Carolina.

Mr. Price, with his wife and three sons and daughters, left his home at Braddock Heights, Alexandria county, at 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to visit his mother, with whom he annually spends the summer. There was no indication at the time of his departure that he was despondent, although of late he has been suffering from sinking spells, probably due to an effection of the heart.

Mr. Price was forty-one years old. His wife, before their marriage, was Miss Alice Lindsey, daughter of Mrs. Noble Lindsey, of Braddock Heights, Alexandria county.

Under the Roosevelt administration Mr. Price became prominent in the forestry service, as associate United States Forester.

Since he left the government service he had been interested in conservation, delivering lectures on this work in various parts of the country. He was well known in this city, and identified with a number of clubs here.

Mr. Price was born in Liverpool, January 27, 173. He did practical forestry work in Europe for several years before returning to America.

He entered the bureau of forestry in the United States Department of Agriculture in 1899, and soon was promoted to superintend the working plans, and later was made associate forester of the Forest Service.

He was a member of a number of clubs in Washington, including the Society of American Foresters, American Foresters Association, National Geological Society, Sierra Club, American Fisheries Society, and the Cosmos Club.

As an author, he became noted by his book, "The Land We Live In," publisher of monographs, articles, and reports on forestry.

Strange Negro Attempts to Play Deaf and Dumb Trick at the Station House.

A strange mulatto, who appeared on the streets yesterday, intercepted several persons and solicited alms. He asked Officer Miller for a cigarette, but when questioned he made signs and would not utter a word. The officer locked him up and this morning brought him before the Police Court.

When arraigned at the bar he was pantomimic in his actions, and it was at first determined to hold the negro until tomorrow in order to see if he was mentally deficient, but it was subsequently deemed proper to dispose of his case then and there, and he was given one hour in which to leave the city with the assurance that if found here after that time he would be put on the roads for ninety days. He seemed to understand this announcement and left.

ALLEGED ASSAULT CASE

Young Man Charged With Crime Suddenly Vanishes From the City.

The police were notified yesterday that a ten-year-old daughter of Samuel Walker, residing at 1001 Gibbon street, had been ill-treated by a white man, named William Higgins, 26 years old. A warrant was issued and the officers started in search of the alleged assailant. Higins, however, made a hasty exit from the city when he ascertained that the officers were looking for him, and his whereabouts are unknown to the authorities.

Higgins resided next door to his alleged victim, and the story of the little girl has caused considerable indignation.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE PUBLISHED DAILY.

The Alexandria Gazette Corporation. Gazette Building - - - - King Street.

ROBERT S. BARRETT, President and General Manager.

HOWARD W. SMITH, Secretary and Treasurer.

Entered at the Postoffice of Alexandria, Virginia as second-class matter.

PROPOSED BOULEVARD.

About twelve years ago, when it was seen that the maintenance of a ferry between Alexandria and Washington had become uncertain, the Gazette suggested that the time had come for the construction of an Appian Way between this city and the national capital.

It was stated at the time that Alexandria was fortunate in being located so near Washington, and that if any other Virginia city was in so close proximity it would go to any extreme in building a suitable highway to connect with the capital city.

The ferry has long since passed away and communication between this city and Washington by vehicle is necessarily over the road. The advent of the automobile and auto truck has brought about conditions which should be met.

From the confines of Alexandria to the Highway Bridge is about four miles, a run which can be covered in a few minutes by modern vehicles, and as the commerce of Washington with this city and surrounding towns in mingling more and more yearly, a modern road would prove a great desideratum.

The movement which has been started to build a fine boulevard from Washington to Mount Vernon via Alexandria is practical. It is an echo of the proposal to construct Mount Vernon Avenue which has been so long on the trestleboard.

Alexandria is asked to contribute $10,000 towards the work. Unfortunately this appeal comes at a time when the city's hands are virtually tied, as it has recently embarked in the plan for a new high school and a new truck house and has subscribed $5,000 towards the proposed new hospital. A good road to Washington is as essential as any other enterprise.

ATTACK ON THE STONE OF SCONE.

The world is but little surprised at acts of English suffragettes in their present frentzied conrition, but what sense or reason there could be in making an attack upon the Stone of Scone, which has been resting quietly for many years under the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey, London, is hard to understand. Yet dynamite was placed under the chair yesterday and the stone chipped.

The Stone of Scone is gazed upon by every tourist who visits historic Westminster Abbey. Many Englishmen prefer to believe that this stone was the same Jacob used as a pillow during his flight from the wrath of his brother Esau and while wending his way to the home of his uncle Laban in Padan Aram.

Frenzied people have but little sentiment. The Parthenon on the Acropolis, the most sacred and interesting place in the days when Greece was at her zenith, suffers when her enemies invaded Athens, and what was a marvel of architectural skill is now a disfigured relic of classic days. The Thesium suffered a similar fate, both structures having at times been used as Christian churches and powder magazines, in one of which an explosion occured.

Westminster Abbey and the Parliament Houes may be as the ruin on the Acropols in days to come, but it is hoped that these structures will not be destroyed or mutilated by any person in whose veins courses English blood.

SENATE PASSES REPEAL BILL.

As had been anticipated, the United States Senate last night passed the bill repealing a section, obnoxious to many who flinch at subsidies, exempting from tolls American coastwise vessels which may pass through the Panama Canal. The vote stood 50 to 35.

The measure now goes back to the House, which is expected to accept the Simmons-Norris amendment specifically reserving all rights the United States may have under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

The bitterness manifested by those opposed to repealing that clause in the bill was marked, and a personal encounter on one occasion was narrowly averted.

The cry of the minority is that "British diplomacy has been crowned in triumph." But the majority of the people's representatives in both branches of Congress, as well as the people themselves see no such spectre.

When repeal was first suggested to the House of Representatives by President Wilson we believed he was right. We believe so now.

The democratic party, it must be admitted, placed itself in a paradoxical position when the Baltimore Convention placed that plank in its platform. This was done before the nomination for President was placed in the hands of Mr. Wilson. The organization had for many years inveighed against subsidies and had lampooned the republican party for catering to privileged classes. Unfortunately, as is often the case, they found themselves doing what they condemned in others.

A number of republicans, it will be seen, voted for repeal.

The House, it is believed, will adopt the measure, as it comes from the Senate, and the vexations issue will have been settled after the President shall have placed his signature to it.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD

When you buy a package of Samose the great flesh forming food, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week's use. E. S. Leadbeater and Sons will tell of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin pale and haggard but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that they give their personal guarantee with every package of Samose they sell to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.

Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without apettite.

LIGHTNING STRIKES COLLEGE.

Escape from Death of Man and Woman was Remarkable.

Norfolk, Va., June 12—In the severe storm that visited this vicinity a few nights ago a bolt of lightning struck the home of Frank Brunck at Chesapeake avenue at Ocena View and that Mr. Brunk and his wife escaped without death or serious injury may be regarded as miraculous.

Mr. Brunk and his wife were asleep at the time. The electric meter near their bed received the bolt, which then tore through the wall of the house, and struck the chimney which runs from the cellar to the attic, completely demolishing it. Pictures were flung from the wall and the force of the shock was so great that many of the windows in the house were shattered.

It is impossible to account for the escape of Mr. and Mrs Brunk; neither of them was seriously injured, Although Mrs. Brunk was blinded for several minutes after the stroke.

THERE'S NO CORN THAT "GETS-IT" WON'T GET
No More Fussing, Plasters, Salves and Corn Pains. Try The New Way.

"Just look at the way that corn comes off!" That's what you'll say when you try wonderful "GETS-IT" on the corn you've tried so long to pry off your toe. It's easy to apply.

Madam, For Those Corns That Make You Jump Out of Your Shoes, Try Wonderful "GETS-IT."

"GETS-IT",—one, two, three, and it's done! The corn begins to shrivel, away she goes, surely, absolutely. A few drops will do it. "GETS-IT" never makes toes red and raw. Corn pains go! It means the end of cutting and gouging of corns, the end of stick plasters that don't work anyhow, the end of salves that get up your toes, no more "harness", no fussing. Try "GETS-IT," the new, sure way, for corns and calluses.

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.
